Dear Mrs. Hunt:

Thanks for your letter of August 4th.
I'm sorry that we did not use your new address in writing to your former LIFE correspondents.

Will you please let me know when you receive the certificate of copyright from Washington.

Cordially,

H. C. Cormelle
Assistant to the President

Dear Mr. Cornuelle:

Thank you for your recent letter enclosing the sample of what was sent out to my former LIFE correspondents.

I wish I had thought to have my address changed to 214 Gibson St., Lowell, Massachusetts, as I will be there after next Monday, and have practically no faith at all in the efficiency of the Post Office Department to relay my mail promptly - if at all!

However, should any responses find their detoured way to me up there, I'll certainly let you all know the general trend of them. I also have the hope that perhaps a small percentage of them may become affiliates of your organization through this introduction.

Sordially yours,

Betty Knowles Hunt

P.S. I gave my new address to the Copyright Office in Washington when I mailed in your form, so I shall expect to hear from them up there eventually.
