Dear Hans:

Just when I was starting to worry about your whereabouts, I receive two letters from you. Glad to hear you are still functioning!

Your article on the future scenario is outstanding. I've shared it with Paul with my usual raving comments. Is it being offered for publication or is it being published elsewhere? In any event, I really felt your analysis was perfect (that means I agree with you).

Your other letter, however, causes me to believe your memory is fading. The Class of 1957 was in a class of its own! Anyway, I'm guilty for the "popularized" style rather than the "academic" style in Bev's paper. I urged her to write her paper emphasizing flow rather than footnotes. As usual, Bev will again agree with you instead of her husband!

We are planning to go to Florida for Christmas and New Years. If we make it I hope you folks have a nice White Christmas.

Cordially,

Robert G. Anderson
