

TABLE OF CONTENTS

1. FAITH AND FREEDOM

Liberty will be restored as we recapture a sense of our earthly purpose and know the source of our rights.

2. CONSISTENCY REQUIRES A PREMISE

Unless we are aware of our basic assumptions, social frictions are inevitable.

3. BOOBY TRAPS

It is important to avoid blind alleys.

4. WHY DO WE LOSE LIBERTY?

The fallacies of authoritarianism are too generally accepted.

5. EMERGENCE OF A LEADERSHIP

We can't predict who will lead the libertarian renaissance. It may be you.

6. HUMILITY AND LEADERSHIP

The libertarian thinker is one who has an awareness of his own shortcomings.

7. INTEGRITY AND LEADERSHIP

What we say and do must accurately reflect what we really believe.

8. THE METHODS OF LEADERSHIP

Only the highest grade methods can achieve the chief political good—individual liberty.

9. THE MANNERS OF LEADERSHIP

Not anger or impatience or discouragement, but unyielding good will is the proper stance.

10. AIDS TO LEADERSHIP

Each of us who would further the restoration of liberty must become a more creative person himself.

11. THREE LEVELS OF LEADERSHIP

The first stage is open to almost anyone, but there is room to aspire.

12. CAN BUSY PEOPLE BECOME LIBERTARIAN LEADERS?

The answer is yes: only busy people can accomplish this task.

13. LIBERATED

The cause of freedom does not need new arguments as much as it needs a renewed attention to our undiscovered selves.

PUBLICATION

FROM THE FOREWORD

● "I have no reason for attempting a manual of libertarian leadership except the conviction—born of three decades of trial and error—that our waning individual liberty is more difficult to restore than most people judge. It would be shameful for any person, thinking he knows how deep the ore lies, to keep silent while millions of people wastefully prospect on the surface.

"The emphasis in this volume is on methodology. Assuming an individual has mastered the philosophy of freedom, what can he do about it? With whom does he work? What are his limitations? His potentialities?"
