Newsweek -

your Henry Hazlitt is writing the sandest sense regarding national problems that I have seen anywhere, including your other signed columns on inflation, and total disregard of the costs for national & international doles is a real threat to our national security - the real threat in my humble opinion because we cannot indulge ourselves into complacency.

yet in your Jan 2nd issue Mr.
Lindley writes that the foreign aid bill of 4 billion plus, represents a desirable plateau and refers to the need of a more "competitive" long term foreign economic program.
Competitive of course means more costly.

When are we going to stop the foreign & domestic give-away?

Mr. Hazlitt is the only person on the staff of any publication that I read, who senses and expresses so well the fact that our greatest menace is national and personal debt. In the government Humphrey does. (and of course Byrd but he is a damned Democrat)

A miserable lack of financial fact facing and no credit to our national thinking. Shame of the Republican party - is this another U.S. grant regime?

Sincerely
Robert M. Hayward
