

Dear Sir:-

Jm

Re your column Newsweek Mar 7th, page 79. Salaries of Congress, permit me to state that the First Congress did by 2/3rds vote submit to the then states a proposal to amend by requiring that no salary change to members of Congress shall take effect until a new congress has ~~it~~ intervened.

The states did not ratify this.

It was Art 2 of the 12 submitted. 10 were ratified and became what we now call the Bill of Rights.

Had Art 2 of the proposal been adopted we would not have had a Congress doing the thing it just did.

Fraternally yours,

John F. Carlisle
