You have been an inspiration to me for almost 10 years. From reading your column "Business Tides", "Economics In One Lesson", "The Great Idea" and a couple of books by other authors, I feel that my mind, as far as economics and some political science is concerned, is clear and I am on the right track.

I feel it is my duty to pass on to others the desire to have an understanding of economics. I feel embarrassed that I haven't been able to do much with the people of my community in this respect.

Would you have any suggestions as to how to sell economics in a small town? Just about any help will be appreciated.

Thanks for the help you have given me and I sincerely hope this finds you in the best of health.

Robert A. Henning
