News Week
Atten: Mr. Henry Hazlitt
New York, N.Y.

Dear Sir:

I was very much impressed with your article in Newsweek, Stevenson's Farm Claptrap. I agree with you 100%, but just how many farmers, or small business men who are directly affected by lower farm prices read Newsweek;

If the Republican party is losing face in agricultural areas it is nobody's fault but their own. If articles such as yours appeared in papers the farmers read I believe it would do the Republican party a lot of good.

The farmer or business man who are dependent on each other are not complaining so much about low prices, but can not understand why other segments of our society do not economize as the farmer and food processors are asked to do. The Post Office Department, for instance is setting up ever and higher standards for its employees, then asked for a postal increase to offset the cost. The recent $1.00 an hour minimum wage law will adversely affect farmers, and all business closely affiliated with farming.

The boast of the Republican party that things are booming does not hold true for the most of us, and the fact that it is printed in the Wall Street Journal etc. will not help to get the rural vote. If the Republican party does not wake up to this fact, and quick, they may as well forget the next election.

The Democrats are taking full advantage of the opportunity by getting down to the ground roots where the people are.

I am a Republican, hoping to vote that way again, if the party as such will defend its program as Mr. Benson has done.

Yours very truly,

M. H. Parsons
