Dear Vern:

Eleanor has left to spend the rest of the week with her folks, so we're filling in.

Mr. Read would very much like for you to prepare an index if you can, and of course, he's willing to have it back yesterday.

The pages are numbered on the galleys as they will be numbered in the book. Mr. Read would like a fairly short index, not to run more than 4 or 5 pages in the book. So, there you are; and the sooner you can get them back the happier he'll be.

If you want money sent to you there, just let us know. Otherwise, keep track of what we'll owe you.

And have fun.

Sincerely,

PLP:kqb
