Dear Mrs. Orsini:

The blueprints for ANYTHING THAT'S PEACEFUL arrived this morning -- no problems. We will be going to press Monday morning.

Arnold's has given us a good delivery schedule -- 3,000 advance paper bound copies September 4, the balance of the order, September 10th.

We hope that this will be satisfactory.

Very sincerely yours,
SOWERS PRINTING COMPANY

Dear Geoffrey:

Eleanor managed to get away this morning, leaving me in something less than a state of complete understanding as to who was to do what to which revised page proofs.

My O.K. on each of the attached signifies approval of the sheet marked as I found it; but whether the markings for further change are yours or Eleanor's, I'm not sure.

I trust all will be clear to you. And thanks for the good progress to date on the book.

Sincerely,

PLP:kqb

Dear Mrs. Orsini:

Enclosed are the revised page proofs that you requested and the blueprint for the cover of ANYTHING THAT'S PEACEFUL.

Would you check the position of the cover against a copy of Elements. We do not have any copies -- in fact, if you could spare one, could you send one for the file?

We set the author's name slightly smaller on this book so that it would not "stick out" too far beyond the title. If it must be the same size as the old book, we can easily reset it.

Assuming that we will have your o.k. by Monday, we will work out a schedule for delivery of a substantial advance shipment during the second week of September.

Very sincerely yours,
SOWERS PRINTING COMPANY

PS: You have asked us to print the cover in Superior Green #357. Our Superior Ink Sample Book does not carry numbers like this. Could you send us a sample, or is it a PMS color?
