Dear Leonard:

Running across this item in the Labor Relations Advisory Letter, which I have enclosed, as well as reading a number of articles and comments on union demands for the guaranteed annual wage, leads me to make a suggestion. There is a real need for a pamphlet on the guaranteed annual wage and its implications. Since labor unions are going to begin to force this issue very soon, it would be very timely if, within the next six months or so, such a publication could be made available for employers. We certainly lack the logical answers in printed form.

I thought you might want to give this your consideration.

My best to you,

C. W. Anderson

Dear Chet:

Thanks for your letter of the 5th suggesting that we do something on the guaranteed wage.

I've talked this over with Baldy, and both he and I agree with you. Baldy is going to try his hand at the subject right away.

See you soon.

Cordially,

Leonard E. Read
