"RETREAT WEEKEND" OCT. 10-12

Y M C A (Abe Lincoln) Camp, Davenport, Iowa

For those who have shown such a gratifying interest in our "retreat", a portion of a book by Albert Jay Nock seems most appropriate. "Isiah's Job" telling briefly of those few "who will build up a new society" is enclosed. Also in this envelope is some other preparatory reading matter.

We are assured of a stimulating conference because it is our good fortune to have as participants a good share of the leaders of libertarian thought in this country today. To help you get acquainted with some of those who will have active parts in our discussions, here is a list of those coming from outside this area:

Leonard E. Read, Foundation for Economic Education, New York
Rev. Edmund Opitz, Spiritual Mobilization, Los Angeles
Dr. Ludwig von Mises, New York University, New York
William Grede, Nat'l. Council of YMCA's & NAM, Milwaukee
Bradford Smith, U. S. Steel Corporation, New York
Admiral Ben Moreell, Jones & Laughlin Steel Company, Pittsburgh
John Brown, J. I. Case Company, Racine
Robert Baird, J. I. Case Company, Racine
Leonard Fletcher, Caterpillar Tractor Company, Peoria
H. F. Langenberg, Reinholdt & Gardner, St. Louis
H. A. Parmelee, Chamber of Commerce, Burlington, Iowa
Kenneth Millsap, Parsons College, Fairfield, Iowa

From the Quad-Cities we will have men of business and industry, one or two educators, one or two clergymen and at least one YMCA man.

We are looking forward to seeing you on Friday, October 10. Dinner is planned for 6:30 p.m. Information about the areas of the freedom philosophy and the free market economy which we will discuss will be sent along soon.

Sorry, but lack of time forces us to use the mimeograph for these letters.
