Dear Mr. Anderson:

Quite possibly you'll see Mr. Read again before I do. At least, he's scheduled out of Irvington for most of September. Until he gets a chance to review your comments on the housing situation in the Quad Cities, this will acknowledge their arrival. May I add that your statistics seem quite convincing.

Your approach interests me, especially, since I've been toying with the same kind of a problem in my home community. Judging from any returns I've had, the philosophical argument doesn't seem to carry much weight. Or perhaps I'm over-anxious. The enclosed letter was published September 4 in the Citizen Register of Ossining.

Sincerely yours,

Paul L. Poirot
