Dear Chet:

I have just talked to Dr. Mises and he has agreed to go to your "Retreat." He will make the trip with Ben Moreell, Brad Smith and me via Admiral Moreell's plane.

Dr. Mises must be in Milwaukee late Sunday afternoon or very early evening inasmuch as he has a lecture there on Monday, and at his age it is important that he get plenty of rest. Somehow could you arrange to get him to the Moline Airport in time to catch a plane that would accommodate his situation?

My best!

Cordially,

Leonard E. Read

Dear Leonard:

This analysis of the housing situation and the "need" for public housing has provoked considerable comment.

I thought you might be interested in seeing one product resulting from your original stimulation

Dear Leonard:

Arrival time can be anytime up to 5:30 p.m. or even a bit later on Saturday afternoon, October 10th. We would like to suggest, however, that if the weather seems to be favorable, you and the others may want to consider coming in earlier for a round of golf with Don Innes and perhaps a few others who have indicated that they would like very much to have you. The Davenport Country Club was host to the Western Open Golf Tourney last year. Incidentally, I suggest that Ben Moreell consider landing at the Davenport airport instead of Moline. Davenport actually has a much better landing field even though the commercial lines use Moline. Please keep me informed as to your thinking on subject matter for the conference.

Cordially yours,

Chet
