Dear Ben:

Pierre Goodrich was on the phone with me yesterday and said that he was going to attend a luncheon given for you in Indianapolis next week, having to do with the W. J. Halliday Co. Pierre made inquiry about Howard Bradley and wanted to know if he had manifested any interest in our work. On checking this morning, I can find no evidence of it.

This has no purpose other than background information for your good self and for Pierre.

My best!

Cordially,

Leonard E. Read
