Dear Mr. Duffy:

Your very generous note to the editors of NEWSWEEK of July 20th arrived in my absence from the office. I appreciate very much your most generous reference to my work.

Sincerely,

Dear Sir,

Mr. Henry Hazlitt manages, week in and week out, to write a consistently interesting and informative article. It seems to me that he deserves some special mention for his pains and ability.

Could you tell us something about him in a future issue or, better still, could you get him to do so himself.

His name has been a familiar sounding one to me for a long time but I can't seem to recall any particulars about him and would, therefore, like to see him mentioned in some future article.

Yours very truly,

Arthur P. Duffy
