Dear Mr. Obrebski:

Thanks very much for your very generous note of January 10. I don't think my articles deserve that much praise, but it is very nice to have it.

Sincerely,

Henry Hazlitt

Dear Mr. Karlitt,

I was waiting impatiently for your article (NEWSWEEK of January 14). I wanted to know what's your opinion about the last move of our President. Your articles do display allways a very deep knowledge of economical and political problems. I would say UNUSUALLY DEEP KNOWLEDGE...

Many authors are simply GRINDING problems.
Many articles look like a talking for talking sake. Your articles are allways based ON EDUCATION in the full sense of the word.

You are reading a lot of books, you are STUDYING,
you are thinking logically and therefore your articles resemble a picture SEEN UNDER THE MICROSCOPE.

In your article I have in mind you did

NOT CRITICISE the decision of our President.
You did not say: "IT WAS A RIGHT DECISION".
You said: "THE PRESIDENT HAS TAKEN AN IMMENSE STEP FORWARD IN FOREIGN POLICY".

Such a sentence is a real MASTERPIECE.

I like the PRECISION in music (I'm violinist) in technology (I'm metallurgist) in design (I'm mechanical Engineer).

The above sentence is the MASTERPIECE of THE ORATORIAL PRECISION.

With the same precision you discussed the SITUATION, Especially the past.

Your analysis is MATHEMATICALLY PERFECT.

I take the liberty to express my admiration and my deepest respect.....

Yours very truly
John May
